Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for Talent Acquisition Specialist roles in Germany. I bring 3+ years across full-cycle hiring and HR operations, with hands-on strength in sourcing, screening, interview coordination, and onboarding support. I work with structured pipelines, clean documentation, and fast stakeholder alignment. I use Advanced Excel and Power BI for hiring tracking and reporting, and I keep HRMS records accurate and audit-ready.

In my current role at Early Jobs.AI, I run end-to-end recruiting from sourcing to joining readiness. I source using LinkedIn, job portals, and AI-driven sourcing tools to build role-specific shortlists. I manage interview scheduling, panel coordination, and feedback follow-ups to prevent delays and drop-offs. I maintain clear stage movement and reliable candidate communication so hiring teams can make decisions quickly and consistently.

Previously at Eventivations, I supported recruitment delivery along with HRMS administration and payroll input coordination. I closed 35 to 60 roles per year across teams and improved time-to-hire by 15 to 25% by tightening scheduling, reminders, and feedback turnaround. I maintained attendance and leave records in HRMS and produced manpower and attrition reports using Excel and Power BI to support planning.

For Germany-based hiring teams, I bring a process-first recruiting style that fits structured selection practices and documentation needs. I keep candidate data clean, follow consistent evaluation steps, and align closely with hiring managers on requirements and timelines. I also support HR operations workflows when needed, including HRMS updates, reporting, and coordination with payroll stakeholders.

I am ready to relocate to Germany and contribute quickly in a high-volume, high-precision recruiting environment. I would welcome the chance to discuss how my sourcing execution, coordination discipline, and reporting skills can strengthen your hiring outcomes.

Sincerely,

Hemalatha C
