Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for payments operations or banking operations roles within your organization. I bring over three years of experience supporting global fintech and banking environments, with hands-on expertise in wire processing, payment reconciliation, exception management, and compliance-aligned operations across multi-currency platforms.

In my current role at PayPal India Private Limited, I support end-to-end wire posting and clearing activities across global banking partners. I handle reconciliation, urgent queue processing, and complex exception resolution using SWIFT workflows and internal controls. By resolving stuck transfers and payment exceptions across multiple channels, I have contributed to improving transaction turnaround time by approximately 25% while maintaining accuracy and audit readiness. I also support PSR, DDSR, and trace operations for multiple banking partners, ensuring compliance with internal and external audit requirements.

Previously at Deutsche Bank, I worked as a Payment Processing Operator supporting secure domestic and international transactions. I handled STP and non-STP payment flows across SWIFT MT messages, Fed, and CHIPS platforms using CINQ and PEP+. Through detailed investigations and data validation, I reduced reconciliation discrepancies by approximately 20% and supported timely resolution of payment delays and exceptions across vendor and customer transactions.

Earlier in my career, I gained a strong foundation in financial controls and compliance through my role as an Assistant Auditor at Chandrashekar & Associates and CA Vinay Kumar & Associates. I supported statutory and concurrent bank audits, executed GST filings and reconciliations using Tally ERP, and improved audit documentation accuracy through structured financial record maintenance.

I am proficient in English and currently developing my German language skills (A2, progressing toward B1). I am highly motivated to build a long-term career within Germany's banking, fintech, or shared services ecosystem, where I can contribute my operational discipline, attention to detail, and experience in high-volume, compliance-driven payment environments.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my payments operations experience and commitment to accuracy can support your organization's financial operations. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Sai Priya Chalasani
