Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Software Developer role at your company. With 15+ years at Amazon, including my current position as a Senior Software Development Manager (L7) leading four engineering teams of 40+ people, I am seeking my next challenge at a technology-driven organisation in Germany, and I believe my background aligns closely with what you are looking for.

What I bring

Over my career I have delivered engineering outcomes at significant scale: a GenAI agentic workflow that reduced seller investigation cycles from days to hours with 80%+ accuracy; marketplace risk controls preventing ~$200M in annual losses; and the FBA Onsite platform, scaled globally to 10,000+ warehouses. I hold an MS in Software Engineering from Utah State University (GPA 3.89/4.00), an AWS Solutions Architect certification, and a Google Cloud Generative AI Leader certification. I also hold a US patent in authentication systems.

Beyond technical work, I have spent years building and developing people, managing 40+ engineers across teams, influencing engineering standards across 400-person organisations, and launching new businesses (Seller Lending in India, feasibility in two EU markets). I thrive in environments where engineering rigour and business impact are both expected.

On relocation and language

I am genuinely committed to relocating to Germany and have begun learning German, though I am currently at an early stage (A2). I would not want to overstate my language proficiency, I believe in being direct about this. For a senior technical leadership role, my working language would be English, and I am actively continuing my German studies with the intention to reach professional proficiency over time. I am in the process of obtaining the German Opportunity Card by May 2026. I understand that relocation would require visa sponsorship, and I am happy to discuss the specifics of what that involves.

I am excited about what your company is building and would welcome the opportunity to speak with you further. I am flexible on timing and happy to accommodate a video call at your convenience.

Thank you sincerely for your time and consideration.

Warm regards,

Chandra Vijyapurpu
