Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my keen interest in the SAP Basis Consultant opportunity in Germany, where I aim to contribute my technical expertise, operational discipline, and collaborative approach to enterprise delivery. With over 3 years of experience in SAP Basis administration and operations at Tech Mahindra, complemented by customer service experience at Amazon, I bring both deep system knowledge and strong communication skills essential for cross-functional and EU-compliant IT environments.

At Tech Mahindra, I supported a global telecom client (T-Mobile) by ensuring platform stability across SAP landscapes. My responsibilities included CTS transport management, SM36/SM37 job scheduling, log and dump analysis, and HANA database monitoring. I introduced structured validation checklists and proactive monitoring templates that improved system uptime and reduced rework by 15%. Through disciplined freespace and datafile monitoring, I consistently maintained a 98% batch job reliability rate, aligning operations with SLA targets and audit readiness standards.

My tenure at Amazon Development Center India further strengthened my communication and documentation skills in a fast-paced, customer-centric environment. Handling complex US-based escalations taught me precision in incident reporting, structured handoffs, and iterative improvement—qualities that translate directly into SAP Basis operations and change management.

Academically, I hold a Bachelor's degree in Aeronautical Engineering from Hindusthan College of Engineering and Technology, where I built a foundation in analytical problem-solving and system design. My exposure to tools such as AutoCAD, CATIA V5, and CFD simulation reflects my early interest in systems optimization, which later evolved into enterprise IT.

I am particularly drawn to opportunities in Germany, a country known for its structured engineering culture and precision in enterprise systems. My Germany visa process is currently underway, and I am open to relocation upon completion. I am confident that my SAP Basis expertise, disciplined operations mindset, and adaptability will allow me to integrate smoothly into your team and contribute to stable, compliant SAP environments.

I would be grateful for the opportunity to discuss how my background aligns with your current SAP landscape needs. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Shehnaz M Alavikutty
