Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in a Content Creator role focused on educational and family audiences in Germany. With over five years of experience producing story-led, pedagogy-driven content, I specialize in translating learning objectives into engaging blogs, scripts, worksheets, and digital media assets that resonate with teachers, parents, and children.

In my current work as a Freelance Content Creator and Children's Author, I develop activity packs, online workshops, and short-form digital content. I have successfully grown an educator mailing list to over 600 subscribers, achieving 35–40% open rates, while maintaining consistent brand voice and pedagogical clarity. At Target Publications, I produced pre-primary curriculum units and teacher manuals, partnering with designers and illustrators to reduce post-layout edits by 20–25% and standardizing content for scalable classroom use.

Earlier roles, including Foundation Years Coordinator at Lodha World School and Pre-Primary Teacher at Rajagiri Public School, reinforced my ability to communicate learning objectives clearly, design reusable templates, and improve operational efficiency in content delivery. These experiences, combined with my certifications in Jolly Phonics, Inquiry-Based Learning, and Hybrid Classroom Strategies, enable me to create high-quality educational materials aligned with international standards.

I hold a B.Ed. in English & Economics, a PGD in Early Childhood Education, and a B.M.M. in Advertising, which together give me a strong foundation in pedagogy, storytelling, and creative communication. With C1-level English and B1-level German proficiency, I am prepared to collaborate effectively in a European context.

I am enthusiastic about contributing my skills to develop engaging, scalable, and impactful educational content that supports children, teachers, and families. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my experience can benefit your organization.

Warm regards,
Simmy Lobo
