Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my keen interest in the advertised role. With a proven background in business consulting, sales strategy, and digital transformation across India and the UK, I bring a results-oriented mindset and global perspective to deliver impactful business outcomes. I am in the process of relocating to the UAE and am eager to contribute to the region's dynamic business environment.

At Ernst & Young LLP – Parthenon, I led strategic planning for top FMCG clients, driving a 25% sales increase and streamlining operations using tools like Excel, Power BI, and SQL. My work focused on digital transformation and sales optimization across sectors including consumer products, retail, manufacturing, and healthcare.

Previously, at PRADAN India, I managed a Walmart-backed livelihood initiative benefiting over 10,000 households, and contributed to a World Bank project supporting tech-driven policy solutions. My earlier leadership role at Learnero Co Pvt Ltd (London) saw me grow a user base to 10,000+ and increase brand visibility by 60% in under six months through data-driven marketing.

I hold a Master's in Business Strategy & Marketing from the University of Warwick, UK, and a B.Tech in Electronics. My certifications in Six Sigma (Green Belt), Consumer Behavior (IE Business School), and Big Data (Warwick) further equip me to drive innovation and efficiency.

Why I'm a strong fit for your organization:

- Technological proficiency in Excel, Power BI & SQL
- Sectoral experience across FMCG, retail, manufacturing & healthcare
- International exposure and adaptability
- Strong motivation to grow within the UAE market

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can add value to your team. I am available for a conversation at your convenience.

Kind regards,
Abhishek Mishra
