Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for Operations Coordinator / Logistics Operations roles in Germany where execution accuracy, cost control, and schedule discipline decide outcomes. I bring 11+ years running time-critical crew logistics across bulk, container, and tanker fleets, coordinating workforce movement, travel, documentation, and vendor workflows while protecting fixed sailing windows and operational continuity.

In my current role at Fleet Management India, I own crew change planning for bulk vessels and drive reliever readiness through structured weekly planners, crew lists, and disciplined follow-ups across stakeholders. I coordinate CV sharing for technical approval, close documentation and certification gaps, and track flag licence workflows through DG Shipping and internal systems. When disruptions hit, routing changes, missing documents, or last-minute availability shifts, I prioritise operational risk, escalate early, and keep execution on track with 95% on-time joins.

Across previous roles at Bernhard Schulte Shipmanagement and Synergy Maritime, I strengthened travel and vendor coordination by standardising quotation requests with port agents, aligning ticketing and accommodation with joining windows, and keeping supporting documentation complete for audits and approvals. I also improved invoice clearance for hotels, medicals, tests, agency costs, and working gear by validating documentation up front and maintaining clean records. This reduced cycle time by 15% and cut pending clearances by 25% in high-volume operations.

Germany-based teams value predictable execution, compliant documentation, and clear cross-functional communication. I work comfortably across multiple time zones, keep stakeholders aligned through concise operational updates, and maintain high data discipline across trackers and systems (Excel, DG Shipping portal, Phoenix; Shipmate-to-Phoenix migration). I can contribute immediately to operations teams managing workforce logistics, travel coordination, vendor performance, and cost governance under tight timelines.

Sincerely,
Jitesh Vaity
